Use of Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement our condensed consolidated financial statements, which are prepared and presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in the United States ("GAAP"), we present the following non-GAAP financial measures, including revenue less transaction costs, revenue less transaction costs as a percentage of GMV, adjusted operating loss and adjusted operating margin. We also present certain operating expenses on a non-GAAP basis, as well as those non-GAAP operating expenses as a percentage of GAAP total revenue. Reconciliations of each non-GAAP financial measure with the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure can be found in our earnings supplement slide deck, which is available on our Investor Relations website. Our management uses these non-GAAP financial measures in conjunction with financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP for planning purposes, including the preparation of our annual operating budget, as a measure of our operating results and the effectiveness of our business strategy, and in evaluating our financial performance. However, non-GAAP financial information is presented for supplemental informational purposes only, and our use of these non-GAAP financial measures has limitations as an analytical tool. Accordingly, you should not consider these non-GAAP financial measures in isolation or as substitutes for analysis of our financial results as reported under GAAP, and these non-GAAP measures should be considered along with other operating and financial performance measures presented in accordance with GAAP. Investors are encouraged to review the related GAAP financial measures and the reconciliations of these non-GAAP financial measures to their most directly comparable GAAP financial measures and not rely on any single financial measure to evaluate our business.
Revenue less transaction costs (RLTC) walkthrough
Suggested approaches to model RLTC

Bottom up approach
- Forecast GMV by product
- Estimate on vs. off balance sheet GMV
- Forecast revenue and transaction cost line items

Top down approach
- Forecast total GMV
- Forecast RLTC as a % of GMV
Gross merchandise volume in $ million by product type

18% Growth

24% Ex-Peloton Growth

Structural GMV drivers
- U.S. e-commerce spend
- Increasing BNPL penetration
- Expanding share of cart
- Capturing daily and in-store spend
- International expansion

Temporary GMV drivers
- Seasonality: 2FQ benefits from holiday shopping
- Shifts in consumer spend between staples vs. discretionary purchases

Product mix drivers
- Changes in merchant mix
- Ability to add new products at existing merchants
- Increasing adoption of Adaptive Checkout vs. Pay in 4 only

Note: GMV defined as the total dollar amount of all transactions on the Affirm platform during the period, net of refunds. Beginning in Fiscal Q1 2023, Affirm modified the definition of its Low Average Order Value product from Split Pay to Pay in 4. Pay in 4 includes volume from loan transactions with 0% APR and 6-8 week term lengths but now excludes volume from monthly installment loans with 0% APR and 3 month term lengths. Metrics are unaudited.
On vs. off-balance sheet GMV

in $ million loans sold and GMV less loans sold

Drivers

- Funding market conditions

Note: GMV reflects gross merchandise volume net of refunds and includes volume from Pay Now or down payments on loans; loans are net of down payments and exclude Pay Now volume. Loans sold includes outstanding principal balance at the time of loan sale. Metrics are unaudited.

Share-based payment accounting

$000 unless otherwise indicated

GAAP share-based expenses are added back to stockholders’ equity at the end of each fiscal period.

The main impact of share-based expenses is dilution.

Since 3FQ’21, our shareholder equity has been stable at ~$2.5 billion despite substantial net losses.

We expect total enterprise warrant and commercial agreement expense to decline substantially by 2FH'25.
Employee stock-based compensation

$ million unless otherwise indicated

Considerations

- We establish SBC based upon an annual dilution target, not GAAP expense
- Additional CEO Value Creation Award stock options will be earned only if the 90 trading day VWAP of Affirm Class A shares exceeds $132

Metrics are unaudited.
Conclusion
Focus on forecasting RLTC
- Consider using both bottom up and top down approaches
- Consider both the Affirm-specific and macroeconomic factors affecting RLTC as a % of GMV

Non-GAAP operating expenses
- We have demonstrated good non-GAAP sales and marketing and G&A expense leverage
- Non-GAAP tech and data analytics expense has scaled with GMV and customer growth

Share-based payments
- We target a certain amount of annual share-based dilution
- Vesting of CEO value creation award options is subject to high share price thresholds
- We expect enterprise warrant and commercial asset expense to decline substantially by FYE'25
